

OCTOBER 22, 2018

We're Moving, Effective October 22, 2018!

After a tenure of over 30 years in San Francisco's iconic Russ Building, Adler & Colvin is moving to new digs.

As of Monday, October 22, 2018, our address is: 135 Main Street, 20th Floor, San Francisco, California 94105. Our phone and fax numbers remain unchanged.

The Russ Building, full of character and charm, has housed us through the decades as we expanded in number and built a reputation as a premier provider of legal services to exempt organizations.

When we arrived at the Russ in the mid-1980s, we had three attorneys, supported by three staff.

Today, as we say goodbye to our long-time home, our 18 attorneys and almost 20 support staff also wave a fond farewell to the many friends we have made here – building staff who know our names, parked and retrieved our cars, kept us safe, let us in after hours, shepherded us through fire drills, changed our lightbulbs, and took care of us in countless other ways. We thank you, and we will miss you!

At the same time, we're excited about our move to our new building. We will have the entire 20th floor to ourselves, with enough space to comfortably house our expanded crew and feel inviting to future attorneys and other staff, more areas to connect and socialize, and state-of-the art technological capability to connect outside the office. We are also looking forward to exploring our new neighborhood, south of Market near the Embarcadero. We're close to BART, the Transit Center, and the Ferry Building, and a plethora of new lunchtime options. If you're in the neighborhood, come check us out!

RELATED CATEGORIES

➤ Uncategorized

AUTHOR

Eric K. Gorovitz
Principal

ABOUT OUR BLOG

Nonprofit Law Matters looks at legal issues in the nonprofit and tax-exempt organizations world. Written by the attorneys and paralegals of Adler & Colvin, it provides updates and analysis regarding philanthropy, charity, and other exempt organization issues.

EDITORS

Eric K. Gorovitz
Principal